"Relentlessly Strengthening Urban Education"

"Collaboration"

We collaborate when we work with someone to produce or create something. Collaboration is essential and why the Center for Urban Education Ministries (CUEM) has it as one of their core values (Christian-Collaboration-City-Professional). When we collaborate we utilize our strengths, continue to grow, make smart decisions with resources, and see greater gains. The key to successful collaboration is belief - belief in the organization's mission. 2023 will offer many opportunities to collaborate as we continue to connect and build stronger relationships with one another. You can collaborate with CUEM through your donation. CUEM is "relentlessly strengthening urban schools". Many of the students impacted are underserved and the schools are underrepresented. CUEM is leveling the playing field. And CUEM is focused on success for all students. Collaborate with us through your donation and be part of our team.

RECOGNITION

JAKE NELSON ACHIEVER AWARD

This award supports 8th grade students attending a city school, and provides a pathway for their education - created in honor of student, competitor, and Culver's entrepreneur Jake Nelson. This spring, CUEM will once again give out this special award to three students.

From this award, relationships are developed and fostered. Several Milwaukee women gathered together to create care packages to be sent to students at Our Saviour Lutheran School in the Bronx. This is love in action!

LITMAN'S LEARNERS

"Litman's Learners" are students who excel in an academic accomplishment or achieve a noteworthy act of behavior. These students (from 4th-12th grade) are selected from urban Lutheran schools across our nation, chosen by their teacher or school principal. The goal of "Litman's Learners" is to celebrate student success and encourage a mindset of scholars.

Our goal for Spring 2023 is to raise $5,000 for Litman's Learners. If we raise $5,000, then $5,000 will be matched, giving us $10,000 to award to students. Use credit card or paypal on our website OR send check to:

Reflections from Mel Keischnick

(CUEM Board Member, Emeritus)

"Most powerful of all is the power of the simple Gospel which affirms the eternal worth of each child, the ageless grace of a forgiving God. The Spirit daily blows in the confines of the classroom pointing the way to the true, the good, the beautiful. The teacher herself/himself has been shaped and molded by the Word made flesh."
